Project Description

Rationale

There is a great need for development of the country's science and technology manpower in line with economic development and to provide the capability required in the areas of research, development, innovation as well as their utilization. The importance of research and development for Science and Technology has become the focus of national reform in education in order to prepare the next generation of scientist in various fields. This includes purposeful integration of student learning and faculty participation with the research and extension missions of the institution and their interaction with related agencies, industry and related organizations. By enhancing the research endeavors in agriculture, science, engineering and environment, significant development will be realized throughout the education system and the community.

The establishment of the (A-STEER) serves as venue for research and new technologies, providing more space to different research and development needs. It is also expected to expand the exercise of the institution's research functions not only in Oriental Mindoro but also in MIMAROPA region. It serves as instrument to increase research capability through the conduct of researches with community integration giving them capacity development.

Furthermore, this establishment enables the centralization of RDE activities in one place for easier monitoring and documentation. This proposal purchase of furniture for A-STEER Building will convert the rooms to workable areas. This will enable the faculty researchers to spend time for project implementation and development. The proposal will also equip the conference room for the conduct of in-house reviews and project meetings.

Specific Objectives

1. To purchase conference table for A-STEER Building for RDE activities, project implementation and development
2. To strengthen the institutional research, development, innovation.
3. To support the research and development undertakings of the University with partner agencies

Expected Output

1. Equipment for A-STEER Building for RDE activities have been procured.
2. Improved and strengthened the institutional research, development, innovation.
3. Research and Development undertaking of the College with partner agencies have been supported

Budgetary Requirements (Estimate)

An amount of ₱1700,000.00 will be needed for the acquisition of the furniture for ASTEER Building.
